

LEXQUIRE

TAX & LAW

“Thought Leadership is simply about becoming an authority on relevant topics by delivering the answers to the biggest questions on the minds of your target audience.”

Who are we?

In a world of ever expanding international contacts, it is highly important to receive proper legal advice about the opportunities and pitfalls of cross-border commerce. You need support from a professional who does not only provide you with excellent legal advice but who is also very well versed in the practical and business aspects of cross-border transactions, who has an in-depth knowledge of the market and who is genuinely committed to seeing you succeed.

You can find such a professional in our law firm of LexQuire Tax & Law. We are an internationally operating law firm where our dedicated team of professionals, consisting of lawyers, Rechtsanwälte (German lawyers), tax lawyers and civil-law notaries, offer multidisciplinary advice to the many companies and entrepreneurs that we are privileged to have as our clients. They consider us as their trusted advisor not only with regard to risk assessment, legal or otherwise, but also as regards our pro-active approach in exploring and developing business opportunities and strategies.

A dedicated team

Our team of dedicated professionals are all specialists in their chosen field of expertise. What they all have in common is that they are genuinely committed to our clients' interests and that they take a keen interest in the work of their fellow professionals and that they do not hesitate to share their expert knowledge if the situation calls for it. This means that when your case requires it, our professionals will join forces and work together on your case.

Cross-border

LexQuire Tax & Law has offices in Germany (Düsseldorf) and the Netherlands (Maastricht - Airport and Heerlen). This means that we are perfectly placed to respond to the needs of our clients who are engaged in cross-border commerce. We know the market. We know the people. Therefore, we know as no other how to bridge cultural differences.

We benefit from being a member of an international network of independently operating law firms. This means that, in addition to Germany and the Netherlands, we are able to find for our clients the best independent experts in other parts of the world as well.

What do we do?

LexQuire Tax & Law provides legal advice to mainly private individuals and medium-sized to large SMEs located in the Dutch-German border area who are engaged in international trade. To offer the best advice to our clients we have an international and multidisciplinary team of experts who join forces if a situation calls for it.

What are our areas of expertise?

LexQuire Tax & Law is a trusted advisor for many companies, internationally and domestically. We assess your legal issues with a close attention for details but also with a pragmatic point of view.

Business law.

With our international experience and knowhow we can be of excellent service for all the questions and disputes you may have as regards (cross-border) mergers and acquisitions, the employment law, company law and the law of legal entities, commercial law and insolvency law. You are also at the right address for any issues regarding real estate and financing.

Estate planning and international family law and law of persons

We also handle personal matters. For instance, we can offer you multidisciplinary advice about your (international) estate planning. If you have questions about (international) family law and law of persons, for instance questions about prenuptial agreements, inheritance law, divorce or maintenance payments, we are happy to answer them.

(International) tax law

We do provide support on (cross border) tax law as well. Whether it concerns value added tax, real estate transfer tax, corporate or income taxes, your interests are in good hands.

If necessary, we will confer with your own financial advisors or we engage the services of a specialist from our own network.

What are our objectives?

It is our objective to present you with a comprehensive solution for all your (international) issues pertaining to law, including tax law. We interact with each of our clients in a manner that is most appropriate for the case at hand.

To safeguard the desired result, we will always confer closely with you as to how to arrive at the best solution for your particular case. If your case requires it as regards its nature and degree of complexity, we will put together an (international) multidisciplinary team. This could also mean that we include in our team other professional partners, such as auditors or forensic accountants.

Where can you find us?

If you want to make an appointment with one of our expert professionals, please feel free to contact us. We have offices in Germany (Düsseldorf) and the Netherlands (Maastricht and Heerlen).
